

Code of Conduct

IFAB supports the ten principles of the UN Global Compact, the eight core conventions of the International Labour Organization (ILO) and OECD's guidelines for multinational enterprises. Based on these principles, the Code of Conduct provides guidance in the context of work day to day and clearly sets out what every employee can expect of their colleagues in terms of business ethics, data protection, human rights, working conditions and the environment.

Managing Director

IFAB

Anders Mattsson